"Training That Saves Lives"

Since 1989 it has been our business to train those who provide emergency first response and care for others while teaching them to stay safe themselves.

We work with public and private law enforcement , public safety and security agencies, fire and emergency medical services, private companies, churches, schools and the military.

Training is provided in a variety of formats including:

At our schools

On-line

At your place of business, church or school

Our delivery is hands-on, diverse, skill based and scenario driven giving students “real-life” , engaging and realistic involvement in their own training.
